

Fifth Third Bancorp

Senior Executive Management

Jude A. Schramm
Executive Vice President
Chief Information Officer
Fifth Third Bancorp

Jude Schramm serves as chief information officer. He leads teams that provide innovative solutions in support of the Bank's strategy, including information technology, Agile software development, infrastructure and cloud solutions, information security and enterprise data management.

Before joining the Bank, Jude served as chief information officer for GE Aviation, where he was responsible for leading IT strategy and digital transformation. In previous roles there, he led IT organizations for the services, digital industrial and commercial divisions. He also led digital and enterprise data transformation for the GE IT Corp. He began his career at GE in 2001 as a developer and had roles of increasing responsibilities over his 17 year career.

Jude began his career as a senior consultant with Ernst & Young LLP and also worked as a project manager with Whittman-Hart.

Education

Jude earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in information systems and business management from the University of Cincinnati. He holds Six Sigma black belt and Lean Leader certifications.

Professional and Civic

Jude lives in West Chester Township north of Cincinnati and volunteers as a church leader, mentor and youth coach.

